

GETTING STARTED

A few simple practices and gear choices can greatly enhance your enjoyment of Southern California's year-round fishing for surfperches, croakers, California corbina, and California halibut, among others.

WHEN TO GO FISHING ...

You are more likely to catch fish:

- In the early morning or an hour before dusk
- On an incoming high tide. The rising water level dislodges small invertebrates in sand bars, stimulating fish to feed.
- During mild to moderate surf

CASTING TIPS ...

- When you are beach fishing, cast to the edges of sand bars and drop-offs and be on the lookout for fish "highways," or channels with transiting fish in search of food.
- If you are surfperch or corbina fishing, try casting near sand crab beds and learn to spot feeding corbina in the white wash.
- If you are halibut or croaker fishing, look for signs of baitfish, such as feeding birds and marine mammals, and cast into these areas.

ROD AND REEL TIPS

For heavy bait fishing or "plugging," try a 10- to 12-ft rod rated for 2- to 8-oz casting, with spinning or conventional reels. The reel should be capable of holding 150 to 200 yds of 20- to 30-lb test line.

Carolina rig

Use 6- to 12-lb test line that can comfortably cast a ½- to 1-oz egg sinker, depending on surf conditions.

EQUIPMENT CHECKLIST

- Waders, hat, polarized sunglasses, sunblock. Besides protecting your eyes, polarized sunglasses will help you see fish in the shore break and run up. Wear a U.S. Coast Guard approved personal flotation device if wading.
- Pack for fish, tackle, tape measure, and needle-nose pliers for removing hooks
